THE FUTURE OF Independence

"After Mom died in 2012, CPL became even more important to our father – as a reminder of their shared passion, but also as a fascinating topic and a comforting link to the animal world. He was proud to support the mission of CPL and in particular the work of training these amazing dogs for their work with their human partners."

- Mary and Libby Barringer

"The plans for the new training center, with improved accessibility with wider automatic doors, bathroom and kitchen facilities in the same building, real life living spaces to train and practice service skills, improved parking - all of these would have significantly reduced the stress of my own team training."

-Pat (Summer 2017 Graduate)

Originally constructed as a pole barn for livestock, the current training facility lacks running water, natural light, and restrooms. The absence of windows adds additional challenges for recipients who have anxiety or PTSD. We are eager to provide a respectful setting that is conducive to the needs of our recipients and can foster a more desirable and appropriate learning environment.

Mollie and Minor Barringer Training Center will provide:

- a safe, efficient, and enhanced structure that respects the unique needs of the people we serve
- a facility to meet the high quality service dog program we have in place
- next-level experience needed for dogs, clients, trainers, and volunteers
- more training classes, orientations, and one-on-one training with flexible times to assist teams with learning service dog skills

Training Center Highlights:

- 10,000+sq ft of fully accessible training space
- Accessible restrooms
- Auditorium with seating and stage
- Mock apartment
- Warming kitchen
